

CVTPO Travel Demand Model Update Traffic Analysis Zone Structure

What is the Traffic Analysis Zone (TAZ)

The Census defines Transportation or Traffic Analysis Zones (TAZ) as a special-purpose geographic entity delineated by state and local transportation officials for tabulating traffic related data from the decennial census, especially journey-to-work and place-of-work statistics from the Census Transportation Planning Package distributed by the Federal Bureau of Transportation Statistics. One of the rules determining TAZ boundaries is that TAZs are subdivisions of Census Tract. TAZ boundaries are used as statistical areas for modeling social and economic interactions in the regional transportation model. TAZ characteristics include Population, Employment, Automobile, and Household Data.

Within the CVTPO Boundary there are 275 individual TAZ areas.

CVTPO TAZ Structure Approval Considerations

Proposed TAZ boundaries have been drawn by VDOT Central Office Modeling Department and Cambridge Systematics and, in consultation with locality staff, 2022 and 2050 population projections have been established for CVTPO approval consideration.

Table 1 and Table 2 present the TAZ population, household, and employment for the 2022 baseline and 2050 horizon year. This data, which is broken down by individual TAZ areas, is what will inform the Travel Demand Modeling update effort.
